Flying Food Group caters new CX route at IAD

By Rick Lundstrom

Flying Food Group IAD is now catering Cathay Pacific Airways' new daily route between Washington, D.C./Dulles and Hong Kong.

Launched September 16 and handled by an A350-1000, the 8,153-mile-flight is the longest non-stop route in Cathay Pacific's network.

Nicolas Rondeau, Flying Food Group Executive Vice President, Sales and Marketing, noted that Flying Food Group EWR caters Cathay Pacific's established route between Newark and Hong Kong.

"Flying Food Group is proud to support Cathay Pacific's expansion in the U.S.," Rondeau adds.
